

November 2008

First the bad news.... Unfortunately the Disco has been postponed due to circumstances beyond our control. The good news is that it has been given a new date of Friday 23rd January 2009! A few people were very keen and have paid for tickets before they went on sale! This money will be returned to you. Tickets will be on sale in the New Year.

I must also send an apology on behalf of the team for the mistake on the School Link letter last week. The closing date for orders via the school was 13th November however you can still order via the School link website at any time. www.schoolink.co.uk delivery is free to your home address for orders over £25.00!

Now for some good news.... Those who ordered Christmas Cards from Cauliflower cards should receive them by 1st December! I spoke to the team there and they think it might be even sooner! I was so pleased, not only that so many people participated, but that the designs were so fantastic that I think we might bow to public pressure and run this again next year – so if you did miss out you can look forward to seeing your child's design on your 2009 Christmas Cards!

The big news this half term is our Christmas Raffle! There are over 20 prizes – most of which I wouldn't mind keeping for myself if I'm honest! A huge thank you to Loreena for sourcing prizes and to those parents who donated prizes – your contribution is really valued, thank you! If you think your company might be able to offer us a prize for the raffle it's not too late – please get in touch with us via the postbox.

A full list of prizes will be sent out at the end of the month, along with a few raffle ticket books for your child to sell to family, friends and neighbours. Additional books are available; pop a note in the Friends Together postbox in reception requesting more. If you don't manage to sell yours do let us have any unsold books so we can pass them on to someone else (again via the Friends Together postbox in reception).

The draw for the raffle will take place during the final school production on Tuesday 16th December. Tickets are priced 20p each (i.e. £1 per book).

To whet your appetite the top five prizes are as follows:

- TV
- £100 photographic session and free prints
- Fossil Watch
- Fossil Watch
- MK Dons Family ticket
