Dear Parents,

As the government hold their daily information sessions quite late in the afternoons I don't have any new educational information for you. However, I will try to send out a daily letter sharing what I do know. I will post them on our Website in the News section.

We currently have a large number of children off school – 77, but we are doing well with staff and are currently able to open all classes tomorrow. I will let you know tomorrow about Friday.

I believe there is going to be a government announcement about schools in England at about 5.00pm. This is following the Scottish and Welsh decisions to close all schools at the end of the day on Friday. Can I remind you again that now is the time to think about child care arrangements in case we do have to close.

Thank you very much to those parents who have offered to come and help wherever possible, it is very much appreciated.

Yours sincerely,

Lorraine Quirk
